

Nurse Next Door Named One of BC's Top 10 Employers

Vancouver, Canada, December 02, 2011 --(PR.com)-- Nurse Next Door, one of North America's fastest growing home care franchise systems, is proud to announce that they have been named to BC Business Magazine's 2011 Best Companies to Work for in BC list in the number 3 spot. For the fourth time in five years, Nurse Next Door was acknowledged by the annual program that recognizes thought leading employers in BC.

"We're honored to be named a top employer again," said John DeHart, Co-Founder and Co-CEO of Nurse Next Door. "Caring for the people who care for our clients is the most important thing we can do. Being named to this list again shows our efforts to admire people and attract the best people are paying off."

Each year, BC Business Magazine reviews and evaluates several thousand applications and compares organizations to determine which companies offer the most for employees.

Despite a very competitive industry, Nurse Next Door has been able to attract and retain top talent through innovative methods including a great company culture, open book financials, flexible schedules, and a specially designed 'Mommy Shift'.

With nearly 50 franchise locations across Canada, Nurse Next Door recently started to move into the United States, expanding its award-winning people practices across North America.

"We have a terrific team of people," added fellow Co-Founder and Co-CEO, Ken Sim. "We're eager to bring our recipe for success to communities across the continent as we continue to select top franchise partners and employees to deliver great home care services to local seniors."
